Review of Minutes

The minutes from January 27, 2022 were reviewed and there were two corrections and with those corrections Joan Barrie moved that we accept the minutes. Megan Rhodes seconded the motion and all approved.

Review of the first Spring 2022 Arts and Lectures

- Dr. Ed Bush, Roses Growing from Concrete, many comments about how powerful it was. There were approximately 78 viewers, the format was a “meeting format” versus a “webinar format” so there was a question about a link to post it on the website. There was question about Dr. Bush’s permission and also a question about a privacy issue with the attendees on camera.
 - Maybe contact Regina Mahiri to get those details (Abrea will follow up)
 - The Sawubona Center may have the link that can be published on the website

Discussion about upcoming lecture presentations

- Mary Louise Hill, Transcribing Painting and Photography into Word – Using the Visual Arts to Inspire Character and Story
Monday, March 7, 2022, 12:00 p.m. - 1:00 p.m.
In partnership with Women’s History Month
 - Purnur contacted James Blue with the question: Will the committee supply her with a co-host or give introduction, as in the past?
 - James gave more information about the practice session with all parties involved to make sure all technical details are taken care of before presentation
 - Abrea is interested on doing the introduction (Joan would be alternate), but we need to check in with Purnur because she may have other plans
 - Marian to email the two proposals so the people involved have background
- Catherine Sanchez, Women and Disability in America
 - Joan is interested to give introduction for this speaker

Arts & Lectures Committee Meeting

- Other Topics

- Megan Rhodes is confused about the communication of the meetings. Chris and James suggested email blast three days before with the agenda and minutes so everyone is notified
- James also comments that there is a conflict presentation with the Art Gallery at the same time of our meeting on February 24. Chris also comments that the time of the presenters to get the most students while they are in class
- Chris suggests still meeting and finish our business quickly so people can attend the visiting artists webinar
- James suggests asking Robert for his “housekeeping notes” during the introduction, Marian to ask

- Adjournment 1557
